- (a) any radio spectrum is not in significant use in the entire country or in a geographic area;
 - (b) the person to whom such spectrum was assigned has not committed to plans to make significant use of the spectrum in the entire country or the relevant geographic area in the reasonably foreseeable future; and
 - (c) there is demonstrable demand from other persons for making efficient use of all or part of such radio spectrum in the entire country or the relevant geographic area, the Telecommunications Commission may, make an order or direction under subsection (1) in relation to such spectrum taking into account its existing usage and technical requirements.

- (4) The Telecommunications Commission shall allow any person required to vacate any spectrum duly assigned to it a reasonable period of time to vacate such spectrum taking into account its existing usage and technical requirements.

59 Vacation of radio spectrum with compensation

- (1) The Telecommunications Commission may, by order or direction made on application or on its own motion, require a person to vacate radio spectrum then assigned to the person, and may assign such radio spectrum to a different person on grounds other than those in section 58(2) if:
 - (a) necessary or expedient to further the objective in section 3 and to promote the public benefit;
 - (b) there is reasonable justification for the causing of any hardship that may result to any licensee; and
 - (c) where the spectrum is assigned in an individual service licence, such vacation or reassignment is necessary or appropriate to comply with or conform to the laws of Solomon Islands or international treaties, commitments, recommendations or standards legally binding Solomon Islands
- (2) The Telecommunications Commission shall provide written notice to a person previously assigned radio spectrum that the Telecommunications Commission intends to vacate the relevant radio spectrum pursuant to subsection (1) and such person may within thirty days appeal to the High Court for the determination of the person's interest or right, the legality of the vacation of the spectrum, and the reasonableness of the compensation and the period of time within which the person shall be paid compensation.
- (3) The Telecommunications Commission shall pay, or shall procure that new persons assigned the relevant radio spectrum pay, reasonable compensation (the valuable consideration of which may take the form of cash or some other form and may be payable by way of lump sum or by instalments) within a reasonable period of time after the vacation of radio spectrum under this section having due regard to all the relevant circumstances.

- (4) The Telecommunications Commission shall to the extent possible assign to a person who is required to vacate any spectrum where subsection (1)(c) applies appropriate available alternative spectrum in order to allow such person to continue its business without unreasonable cost or disruption.

PART 8 COMPETITION

60 Anti-competitive practices

- (1) Subject to section 61, no person shall engage in a practice or enter into a contract, arrangement or understanding which has the purpose, effect, or is likely to have the effect, of substantially lessening competition in a telecommunications market.
- (2) Without limitation, a practice of a service provider or a contract, arrangement or understanding between two or more service providers is prima facie likely to have the effect of substantially lessening competition in a telecommunications market if it or the person engaging in it directly or indirectly:
- (a) fixes the retail prices or other conditions of trading of a telecommunications service;
 - (b) apportions, shares or allocates a telecommunications market or markets among themselves or other service providers;
 - (c) prevents or restricts the supply or acquisition of a telecommunications service to or from a person or class of persons;
 - (d) requires or unfairly induces a supplier to refrain from selling to another service provider;
 - (e) imposes unfair restrictions on whom another person may deal with in a telecommunications market;
 - (f) competes unfairly in a telecommunications market by cross-subsidising a service in such market from a service that is not supplied in a competitive telecommunications market; or
 - (g) competes unfairly in a retail telecommunications market by reducing the margin of profit available to a competing service provider in such market by effecting a “margin squeeze” whereby it offers the retail telecommunications service at a price that is so low, or provides to a competitor in such retail market a wholesale telecommunications service or access used by the competitor to provide the retail service at a price that is so high, as to prevent the profitable competitive provision of the retail service, where in either case the wholesale service or access:

- (i) is not supplied in an effectively competitive telecommunications market;
 - (ii) is necessary for the competitor to provide the retail service; and
 - (iii) cannot for economic, technical or legal reasons reasonably be duplicated by the competitor;
- (h) supplies a telecommunications service at prices below cost for a substantial period of time such that competitors are reasonably likely to be driven from the market;
- (i) bundles a telecommunications service that is supplied in an effective competitive telecommunications market with a service that is not supplied in an effective competitive telecommunications market in circumstances where a discount is applied to the effectively competitive service sold as part of the bundle and such discount is not available if the effectively competitive service is acquired on its own;
- (j) pre-emptively acquires or secures scarce facilities or resources, including rights of way, required by another service provider for the operation of its business, with the purpose of unfairly denying the use of the facilities or resources to the other service provider; or
- (k) adopts technical specifications for networks or facilities with the purpose of preventing interoperability with another service provider’s network or facility.

(3) The Telecommunications Commission may, by determination, order, regulation or direction, identify or by regulation prescribe other practices which have the purpose, effect, or are likely to have the effect, of substantially lessening competition in a telecommunications market.

- (4) The Telecommunications Commission may, by determination, order, regulation or direction, exempt a practice, contract, arrangement or understanding from the prohibition in subsection (1) if it:
 - (a) contributes to improving the provision or distribution of telecommunications services or to promoting technical, social or economic progress or the objective in section 3 while allowing consumers a fair share of the resulting benefit; and
 - (b) does not afford a person engaging in such practice or entering into such contract, arrangement or understanding the possibility of eliminating competition in respect of a substantial part of the telecommunications services in question.
- (5) In considering the effective competitiveness of and effects on a telecommunications market, the Telecommunications Commission shall have regard to:
 - (a) the extent to which actual or potential service providers constrain the conduct of another service provider, having regard to such factors as significant barriers to entry and expansion;
 - (b) the extent to which users have the ability to constrain the market conduct of a service provider, having regard to such factors as the interchangeability or substitutability of services by reason of their characteristics, prices or intended uses;
 - (c) the extent to which the market conduct of a service provider is constrained by countervailing bargaining power;
 - (d) the extent to which the conditions of competition are similar in any geographical area; and
 - (e) the reliability and availability of relevant information and the time, expertise and other resources available to it to analyse such information.

- (6) The existence of any of the purposes specified in subsections (1) and (2) may be inferred from the conduct of any relevant person or from any other relevant circumstances.

61 Safe harbour for facilities sharing

Notwithstanding section 60, a contract, arrangement or understanding among competing service providers to use, own or hold an interest together in facilities, or lease or otherwise share facilities in order to reduce unnecessary duplication of costs, does not contravene that section if:

- (a) the terms of such contract, understanding or arrangement do not unreasonably preclude sharing such facilities with other service providers on non-discriminatory terms; and
- (b) such facilities are essential facilities or it is otherwise unlikely that significant efficiencies would result from the service providers separately acquiring and using such facilities.

PART 9 INTERCONNECTION AND ACCESS

62 Commercial negotiation

Subject to this Act, any determination, order, direction or licence issued under this Act or any other applicable law, service providers are at liberty to negotiate, conclude and amend agreements with one another for interconnection, access and other services, including the type and amount of charges, in such manner and on such conditions as are mutually acceptable to the service providers.

63 Interconnection by all service providers

- (1) A service provider has the right and, when requested by another service provider in writing, the obligation to negotiate and endeavour to conclude an interconnection agreement with another service provider.
- (2) A service provider shall:
 - (a) respond within a reasonable time to a request for negotiation and meet all reasonable requests for interconnection at any economically and technically feasible point of its network;

- (b) offer conditions that maintain end-to-end operability in order to facilitate the provision of telecommunications services by an interconnecting service provider to the user notwithstanding that the user is directly connected to a different network;
- (c) incorporate in its interconnection agreement reasonable conditions, including without limitation with respect to the timing, quality, technical, operational and fault handling terms;
- (d) ensure that such conditions:
 - (i) do not unfairly discriminate among service providers; and
 - (ii) are no less favourable to other interconnecting service providers than those it provides for its own telecommunications services or those of its affiliates;
- (e) offer interconnection on the terms in its reference offer, if any, approved under section 65;
- (f) provide access to such of its facilities, systems, software and services as are reasonably required by the interconnecting service provider to interconnect and provide telecommunications services to its users;
- (g) make available to other service providers on a timely basis information, including technical specifications and commercially relevant information that is reasonably required by the interconnecting service provider to interconnect and provide telecommunications services to its users;
- (h) not disclose or otherwise use information received from other service providers in connection with interconnection to obtain a competitive advantage or for any purposes other than for which it was supplied; and
- (i) take such other steps as may be required by determination, order or direction in order to ensure timely and effective interconnection.

64 Access to essential facilities

- (1) Subject to subsections (2) and (4), a service provider has the obligation to negotiate and endeavour to conclude an agreement on access to its essential facilities with a service provider which requests such access in writing.
- (2) A service provider shall:
 - (a) respond to a request for negotiation from, and within a reasonable time meet all reasonable requests for access to any of its essential facilities;
 - (b) incorporate in its access agreement reasonable conditions, including without limitation with respect to the timing, quality, technical, operational and fault handling terms;
 - (c) ensure that such conditions:
 - (i) do not unfairly discriminate among service providers; and
 - (ii) are no less favourable to other service providers than those it provides for its own telecommunications services or those of its affiliates;
 - (d) make available to other service providers on a timely basis information, including technical specifications and commercially relevant information that is reasonably required by the other service providers to provide telecommunications services to its users;
 - (e) not disclose or otherwise use information received from other service providers in connection with access to essential facilities to obtain a competitive advantage or for any purposes other than for which it was supplied;
 - (f) provide access to its essential facilities in a manner that is sufficiently unbundled to enable another service provider to access the facilities that it reasonably requires in order to provide its telecommunications services; and
 - (g) take such other steps as may be required by determination, order or direction in order to ensure timely and effective access to essential facilities.

- (3) The Telecommunications Commission may, by determination, order or direction, determine a facility to be an essential facility.
- (4) Subsections (1) and (2) shall not apply until the fourth anniversary of the new entrant launch date and thereafter shall only apply upon a determination of the Telecommunications Commission made on application or on its own motion that the provisions of this section are necessary to further the objective in section 3.

65 Reference offers

- (1) Subject to subsection (4), the Telecommunications Commission may, by order or direction, require one or more service providers:
 - (a) to prepare, periodically update and revise a reference offer for approval by the Telecommunications Commission in such manner and within such time, as the Telecommunications Commission may, by regulation, prescribe;
 - (b) to address in its reference offer such matters as the Telecommunications Commission considers necessary and expedient for the effective implementation of the reference offer; and
 - (c) to publish its reference offer on its website and send a copy to any service provider on request.
- (2) For the purposes of this section, a “reference offer” is a model agreement, or a group of model agreements, which includes the proposed conditions on which the service provider is prepared to offer requesting service providers interconnection.
- (3) The objective of requiring a service provider to prepare a reference offer shall be to accelerate and assist the reaching with other service providers of reasonable and fair agreements for interconnection.
- (4) In performing its functions and duties and exercising its powers under this section, the Telecommunications Commission shall, in addition to the matters in section 30, consider:

- (a) existing obligations applying to the service provider under this Act and any determination, order, direction or licence issued under this Act, including without limitation under section 63(2)(d);
 - (b) the relative bargaining strengths of the service provider and other service providers likely to request interconnection from it; and
 - (c) in light of the foregoing, whether requiring a service provider to prepare a reference offer is likely to further the objective stated in subsection (3).
- (5) A service provider required to provide a reference offer under subsection (1) may apply to the Telecommunications Commission to treat an existing agreement as its reference offer or part of its reference offer.
 - (6) The Telecommunications Commission shall approve an application made under subsection (5) if it considers that the publication of an existing agreement would, taking into account the obligation of service providers in section 63(2)(d), sufficiently further the objective of requiring a reference offer in subsection (3).
 - (7) If a service provider fails to prepare a reference offer in accordance with this section to the reasonable satisfaction of the Telecommunications Commission, the Telecommunications Commission may prepare the reference offer and it shall apply to that service provider.

66 Amendments to agreements

Parties to an interconnection agreement shall from time to time negotiate and endeavour to conclude amendments to such agreement if necessary to take into account changes to this Act or a determination, order, direction or licence.

67 Good faith negotiations

- (1) Service providers shall, in good faith, conduct any negotiations required under this Part or any determination, order or direction issued under this Act.

- (2) Without limitation, a service provider prima facie violates the duty in subsection (1) to negotiate in good faith if it:
 - (a) obstructs or delays negotiations or fails to make reasonable efforts to resolve matters on which there is a failure to agree;
 - (b) fails to provide information about its telecommunications services, network or other facilities that is necessary for the purposes of the matter; or
 - (c) prevents another service provider from communicating with the Telecommunications Commission.
- (3) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Act, a service provider shall not be required to enter into any agreement on terms that are reasonably likely to endanger, damage or injure any person or property or materially interfere with the operation, provision, security, quality of service or integrity of its telecommunications network or provision of its telecommunications services.

68 Filing of interconnection and access agreements

- (1) A service provider shall, within fourteen days after execution of an interconnection agreement or agreement for access to essential facilities or an amendment thereto, file a copy with the Telecommunications Commission.
- (2) The Telecommunications Commission shall publish a copy of all interconnection and access agreements filed with it under subsection (1) on its website.

PART 10 PRICING

69 Price information to be filed and published

- (1) All service providers shall file with the Telecommunications Commission the standard retail prices of all telecommunications services they provide within seven days of setting or changing such prices.
- (2) The Telecommunications Commission may, by order or regulation, prescribe the manner of filings under subsection (1), and any other information that shall be filed.

- (3) All service providers shall, in a manner that ensures that users are clearly informed, publish:
 - (a) the prices for telecommunications services the service providers provide;
 - (b) the telecommunications services to which the prices apply; and
 - (c) the conditions on which the services are offered.
- (4) Service providers shall publish the information under subsection (3):
 - (a) on the website used to present a service provider's services; and
 - (b) by circulation for publication at points of sale.

70 Price regulation

- (1) The Telecommunications Commission may, on application or on its own motion, regulate the prices of services provided by a dominant service provider in a telecommunications market with reference to relevant benchmarks in accordance with subsection (2).
- (2) In this section, relevant benchmarks shall be determined by:
 - (a) reviewing prices of services substantially similar to those services being assessed, derived from jurisdictions in which:
 - (i) a reasonable level of competition exists in the provision of the services in question; or
 - (ii) prices of the services in question are set on the basis of economically efficient costs, including a reasonable return on investment; and
 - (b) taking into account adjustments to reflect the relative economic and social development, demographics, geography, state of development of the telecommunications sector and differences in the cost of providing telecommunications services in Solomon Islands and such other factors as the Telecommunications Commission considers appropriate.

- (3) On application of an interested service provider, the Telecommunications Commission:
 - (a) may regulate the prices of services provided by a dominant service provider in a telecommunications market with reference to detailed information about service providers' costs including based on cost models in addition to or instead of having regard to relevant benchmarks in regulating the prices of telecommunications services in accordance with subsection (1); and
 - (b) shall revise any method of price regulation then in force under this section if necessary to ensure that a service provider whose economically efficiently incurred costs have increased for reasons beyond its reasonable control can recover such increased costs.
- (4) The applicant shall bear in advance the reasonable costs of the Telecommunications Commission, including any independent experts the Telecommunications Commission may in its sole discretion engage, required to conduct a process to review and evaluate information provided in connection with subsection (3)(a) and (b).
- (5) The initiation of a process referred to in subsection (3) shall not prevent the Telecommunications Commission from regulating prices with reference to relevant benchmarks in accordance with subsection (1).
- (6) Any price regulation introduced upon completion of a process referred to in subsection (3) shall not apply retrospectively.
- (7) Price regulation under this section may include without limitation applying a price cap method of regulation, the glide path method of regulation, both of the foregoing or such other method of regulation as the Telecommunications Commission considers appropriate.
- (8) A service provider shall not charge or accept a price, or apply or accept conditions, for a service if such price or conditions do not comply in all respects with any requirement or conditions of any approved price, price cap, glide path or other method of price regulation applicable to such service then in force.

- (9) Under the “price cap” method of regulation:
- (a) the Telecommunications Commission approves an upper limit for the average price of services included in a defined “basket” of selected services to which this section applies; and
 - (b) the service provider is at liberty, without limiting the application of section 60, to increase or decrease the prices of individual services within the basket from time to time so long as the average price of the services in the basket does not exceed the upper limit approved under paragraph (a).
- (10) Under the “glide path” method of regulation, the upper limit for the price of a telecommunications service (which may be a basket of services under the price cap method) is required to be reduced by a specified percentage, generally linked to a retail price index or other measure of inflation, over a given period.
- (11) The Telecommunications Commission shall approve a proposed price cap, glide path or other method of price regulation if it is satisfied that such method is likely to be sufficient to limit or reduce prices appropriately.
- (12) The Telecommunications Commission shall seek to ensure that a price cap, glide path or any method of price regulation applied to a service provider does not:
- (a) prevent a service provider from achieving a reasonable return on investment; or
 - (b) violate section 60(2)(f).
- (13) Nothing in this Part prevents the Telecommunications Commission from making an order requiring a service provider to cease and remedy a violation of section 60 or any other provision of this Act, or determination, order, direction, regulations or licence issued under this Act.
- (14) The Telecommunications Commission may, by order made on application or its own motion, require a service provider to repay to users amounts received on the basis of prices applied in contravention of this section.

- (15) The Telecommunications Commission may consider applications from users or would-be users to establish or change a price, price cap or any other method of price regulation for services to which this section applies.
- (16) The Price Control Act (Cap. 64) does not apply to the provision of telecommunications services and access.

PART 11 RELATIONS WITH CONSUMERS

71 Fair dealing

- (1) A service provider shall only charge a user for the specific telecommunications services or equipment that the consumer has ordered, and a user shall have no liability to pay for any telecommunications service or equipment that it has not ordered.
- (2) In the case of users who have contracted for services for which they will pay after usage, a service provider shall provide such user with invoices:
 - (a) in writing, which may be transmitted electronically if the user consents;
 - (b) on a regular basis;
 - (c) in a plain and simple format;
 - (d) that provide accurate information about the services provided and the amounts due for each service; and
 - (e) that clearly indicate the method of calculation of prices for any service for which invoices are based on the length of calls or other measure or usage.
- (3) In the case of consumers who have purchased services for which they have paid prior to the provision of such services, a service provider shall permit such users on request to review their expenditures.

- (4) No service provider may make or cause to be made any claim or suggestion regarding the availability, price or quality of its telecommunications services or equipment or that of a competing service provider if the service provider knows or reasonably ought to know that the statement or claim is false or misleading in any material respect.
- (5) The Telecommunications Commission may, by order or regulation, regulate or prohibit the use of a telecommunications network to provide unsolicited telecommunications in order to reduce or eliminate annoyance, inconvenience or anxiety.

72 Confidentiality of user information

- (4) A service provider shall ensure that information it discloses or retains concerning a consumer is accurate and complete for the purposes for which it is to be used.
- (5) A service provider shall permit a consumer to inspect its records regarding a service provided to that user and require correction or removal of information that is shown to be incorrect.
- (6) A service provider shall disclose to consumers the purpose of requesting or collecting any information about users and shall not use or maintain information about users for undisclosed purposes.

73 Confidentiality of communications

- (1) A service provider shall take all reasonable steps to ensure the confidentiality of its consumer's communications.
- (2) A service provider shall not intercept, monitor, alter or modify the content of a message, except as provided in section 97 or otherwise in this Act or any other law.

74 Access by government authorities

Nothing in this Act shall be interpreted to prohibit or infringe upon the rights of government authorities under the laws of Solomon Islands to exercise such rights to access otherwise confidential information or communications of users in a lawful manner.

75 No unjustified discrimination

- (1) Unless otherwise permitted by the Telecommunications Commission by determination, order or direction, service providers shall offer all consumers the same conditions without discrimination, including without limitation quality of service and prices, except where good and objectively justified reasons exist.
- (2) A service provider that discriminates among consumers shall submit to the Telecommunications Commission its reasons for such discrimination.
- (3) If the Telecommunications Commission is not satisfied that the reasons submitted by the service provider are good and objectively justified, the Telecommunications Commission shall issue an order to cease the discrimination.

76 Terms of service, complaints and disputes

- (1) Unless such matters are already addressed in a dominant service provider's licence, the Telecommunications Commission may, on application or its own motion, make an order requiring a dominant service provider to take the following steps in any telecommunications market in which it is dominant:

- (a) establish fair and reasonable standard conditions for the provision of services to consumers, procedures for dealing with complaints from and disputes with consumers and providing remedies including without limitation refunds and compensation where circumstances warrant;
 - (b) submit such conditions, procedures and remedies, or proposed amendments thereto, to the Telecommunications Commission for its approval;
 - (c) make such changes to such conditions, procedures and remedies as may be reasonably required by the Telecommunications Commission;
 - (d) publish such conditions, procedures and remedies on its website and circulate them to points of sale for publication in a manner that ensures that consumers are clearly informed of them; and
 - (e) comply with such conditions, implement such procedures and provide such remedies in accordance with their terms as approved by the Telecommunications Commission.
- (2) If a service provider fails to establish, submit or make changes to conditions, procedures or remedies if so required under subsection (1), the Telecommunications Commission may do so and the service provider shall comply with such conditions, implement such procedures and provide such remedies.
- (3) A service provider shall ensure that its complaint and dispute procedures are easy to use and free of charge, provide effectively for impartial and quick treatment and resolution of complaints, and supply contact information to the Telecommunications Commission in the event it requires to make an application to the Telecommunications Commission under subsection (5).
- (4) Notwithstanding subsection (3), a service provider may refuse to deal with, and may apply reasonable charges for, frivolous or vexatious complaints and disputes.

- (5) A consumer whose complaint or dispute has not been treated by a service provider in accordance with subsection (3) may apply to the Telecommunications Commission for an order:
 - (a) requiring the service provider to comply with subsection (3); or
 - (b) addressing the complaint or dispute and providing for a remedy ,if such remedy is not inconsistent with any reasonable conditions and procedures established by the service provider pursuant to this section.
- (6) The Telecommunications Commission may, by order, regulation or direction, require or by regulation prescribe means and measures in which service providers to:
 - (a) report to the Telecommunications Commission regarding the types and volumes of complaints and disputes, application of procedures and manner of their resolution; and
 - (b) take such other measures as the Telecommunications Commission considers appropriate to ensure that complaints of and disputes with users are satisfactorily addressed.

77 Directory assistance

The Telecommunications Commission may, by order or direction, require a service provider to provide its users with directory assistance in accordance with such conditions as the Telecommunications Commission may from time to time prescribe.

78 Quality of service

- (1) Unless such matters are already addressed in a dominant service provider's licence, the Telecommunications Commission may, on application or its own motion, make an order requiring a dominant service provider to take the following steps in any telecommunications market in which it is dominant:

 - (b) submit such indicators or proposed amendments thereto to the

Telecommunications Commission for its approval;

- (c) make such changes to such indicators as may be required by the Telecommunications Commission; and

- (1) The Telecommunications Commission must carry out public consultations on the effect of intellectual property laws on the development of telecommunications networks and services in Solomon Islands and may make recommendations to the Minister regarding such matters.

- (2) The Telecommunications Commission shall use its reasonable endeavours to commence the public consultations under subsection (1) within six months of the commencement date of this Act.

PART 13 NUMBERS AND DOMAIN NAMES

81 National numbering plan

- (1) The Telecommunications Commission shall, by determination, order or direction, establish and from time to time revise a national numbering plan, which may replace any existing numbering plan in Solomon Islands, and shall:
 - (a) allocate and assign numbers and number ranges to service providers in accordance with such plan; and
 - (b) establish requirements relating to the use of numbers by service providers and users.
- (2) In preparing the national numbering plan, the Telecommunications Commission shall:
 - (a) consider any numbering plan proposed by a recognised service provider association, if any, and rely where reasonable upon industry self-regulation;
 - (b) have due regard for the existing allocation and assignment of numbers;
 - (c) ensure that numbers are allocated in an open, objective, transparent and non-discriminatory manner; and
 - (d) ensure that it is consistent with the requirements of international treaties, commitments, recommendations or standards to which Solomon Islands has subscribed.
- (3) Service providers shall:

numbering plan; and

- (b) not use any numbers not assigned to them in accordance with the national numbering plan or adopt any other private numbering arrangements that conflict with the national numbering plan.
- (4) Any allocation of numbers to a service provider grants the service provider a right to use such numbers, and neither service providers nor users shall have any property rights in such numbers.
- (5) Until any alternative provision is made under a numbering plan established under subsection (1):
- (a) numbers shall be allocated to licensees in blocks of 1,000 geographic numbers and 10,000 mobile numbers each (or such other size as the Telecommunications Commission considers appropriate);

 - (ii) blocks of mobile numbers used by it on the commencement date to provide telecommunications services to users, subject to migration to an increased number length for mobile services.

82 Initial numbering review

- (1) The Telecommunications Commission may review and make an order, determination or direction on a date that is no earlier than the second anniversary of the commencement date regarding:
- (a) whether and how any geographic number blocks (including any that have been allocated to a user) shall be vacated and migrated to facilitate the introduction of new telecommunications services; and

- (b) whether and how the costs of any such vacation or migration should be distributed among service providers.
- (2) The notice required under section 25(2)(a) with respect to an order, determination or direction under subsection (1) shall be issued to all service providers to whom numbers have been allocated and set out:
- (a) the scope of the review, including the geographic number blocks to which it applies;
 - (b) the new telecommunications services proposed; and

- (5) This section is without prejudice to the powers of the Telecommunications Commission under section 81 and any other provision of this Act.

83 Number portability

- (1) The Telecommunications Commission may, no earlier than the first day of April 2012, commence a review whether to require the introduction of number portability.
- (2) In addition to considering the burden of regulation under section 30, the Telecommunications Commission shall, when determining whether to require the introduction of number portability, have due regard to:

- (a) its costs and their fair distribution among service providers and consumers;
 - (b) the availability of technology permitting such portability; and
 - (c) the likely benefits of number portability to effective competition.
- (3) The Telecommunications Commission shall allow a reasonable period, which shall not be less than forty-five days, for consideration and comment by interested persons on the review.
- (4) If the Telecommunications Commission concludes following that review that number portability should be introduced, the Telecommunications Commission may, by order, determination or direction, require one or more service providers to:
- (a) develop or assist in the development of an implementation plan providing for conditions for number portability; and
 - (b) by a date specified by the Telecommunications Commission, which must be no earlier than the first day of April 2013, implement and comply with such plan as modified and approved by the Telecommunications Commission.
- (5) The costs of introducing and administering number portability must be allocated fairly among service providers and in accordance with the implementation plan and its conditions.
- (6) If a service provider fails to develop or assist in the development of an implementation plan and conditions if so required under subsection (4), the Telecommunications Commission may do so and require the service provider to implement such plan and the service provider must implement such plan and comply with such conditions.
- (7) For the purposes of this Act, “number portability” means a service enabling a user to change service provider for a given telecommunications service while retaining the same telephone number, including the leading digit.

- (7) Subsection (4) shall not apply to make up a funding deficit if a supplementary fee could be levied under section 21 to make up such funding deficit.
- (8) The purpose of subsections (4), (5), (6) and (7) is to ensure that payment of funds to the Compensation Special Fund instead of the Telecommunications Commission Special Fund during the transitional funding period does not prevent the Telecommunications Commission from being able to meet its expenses as they fall due without drawing upon cash reserved for provisions or other anticipated expenses.
- (9) At the end of the transitional funding period, the Accountant-General shall transfer any amount remaining in the Compensation Special Fund to the Telecommunications Commission Special Fund and the Minister responsible for Finance shall wind-up the Compensation Special Fund.

- (10) Solomon Telekom shall have the right to receive compensation in connection with the surrender and replacement of its prior licence in accordance with any specific commitment of the Government to pay such compensation.

- (12) Any amount of compensation payable to Solomon Telekom under subsection (10) remaining unpaid by the end of the transitional funding period shall be a debt owing by the Government to Solomon Telekom, due on the first anniversary of the end of the transitional funding period.
- (13) Solomon Telekom shall be entitled to set-off any amount of the debt under subsection (12) remaining unpaid more than thirty days after such debt becomes due against any amounts of sales tax Solomon Telekom owes to the Government.
- (14) Solomon Telekom shall also be entitled to set-off any amount paid under any agreement between Solomon Telekom and the Government by:
 - (a) the escrow holder to the Government; or
 - (b) Solomon Telekom to the Government instead of to the escrow holder, which is not subsequently paid to Solomon Telekom by the date that it is due in accordance with that agreement against any amounts of sales tax Solomon Telekom owes to the Government.

- (15) The “transitional funding period” is the period:
- (a) commencing on the date of issuance of a new licence to Solomon Telekom in accordance with section 127; and
 - (b) expiring on the earlier of:
 - (i) fifteen days after the expiry of the calendar quarter in which fifth anniversary of the new entrant launch date occurs; and
 - (ii) the date on which the rights of Solomon Telekom to receive any payment under subsection (10) are satisfied or otherwise cease.
- (16) Any dispute as to amounts transferable to or from the Compensation Special Fund or Telecommunication Commission Special Fund or as to any payments payable to Solomon Telekom under this section or the satisfaction or ceasing of Solomon Telekom’s right to receive payments shall be referred to the High Court.
- (17) In this section, “escrow holder” means the person appointed as escrow holder by Solomon Telekom and the Government to hold the licence fees on escrow in accordance with this section.

- (3) Any contractual obligation of the Government to Solomon Telekom established on the commencement date to compensate Solomon Telekom for any defined losses incurred in providing telecommunications services to Solomon Telekom's fixed line users outside of Honiara shall be funded from:

6. QUALITY OF SERVICE

6.1 KEY PERFORMANCE INDICATORS

STL shall, if it is declared a dominant service provider in the telecommunications market in which mobile telecommunications services are provided, comply with the following key performance indicators for its mobile telecommunications network during each calendar quarter (the measurement period):

Parameter	Measurement	Obligation during 1 st year	Obligation during 2 nd year	Obligation during 3 rd year and after
1. Network call set-up success rate	The 10% of cells which have the highest levels of carried traffic during their busy hour during the measurement period are identified. The call set-up success rate is calculated for each cell during the identified busy hour. The network call set-up success rate is the average across the individual success rates for each cell.	>95%	>97%	>98%
2. Network dropped call rate (Urban Areas)	The network dropped call rate (Urban Areas) is calculated during the busy hour for each of the 10% of busiest cells (as for the call success rate) in Urban Areas. The network dropped call rate (Urban Areas) is the average over the dropped call rates for each such cell.	<3.5%	<2.0%	<1.5%
3. Network dropped call rate (Non-Urban Areas)	The network dropped call rate (Non-Urban Areas) is calculated during the busy hour for each of the 10% of busiest cells (as for the call success rate) in Non-Urban Areas. The network dropped call rate (Non-Urban Areas) is the average over the dropped call rates for each such	<5.0%	<5.0%	<5.0% cell.

4. Network quality	The busy hour with the highest level of carried traffic during the measurement period is identified for each cell. The call set-up success rate and dropped call rates are then calculated for each cell over this busy hour. The proportion of cells satisfying the criterion (see definition in subclause 6.2) is the performance measure.	>90%	>93%	>95%

6.2 EXPLANATION OF PARAMETERS

- (a) The Network Call Set-up Success Rate parameter measures the call set-up success rate over the busiest part of the network. The call set-up success rate is defined as successful seizures for TCH/seizure attempts for TCH.
- (b) The Network Dropped Call Rate parameter measures the dropped call rate over the busiest part of the network in each of: (i) Urban Areas, and (ii) Non-Urban Areas. The network dropped call rate is defined as the proportion of calls successfully set up which terminate for any reason other than termination by either the calling or called parties. For the purpose of this clause 6:
 - (i) “Urban Areas” means those main provincial centres in each province in which STL provides mobile telecommunications services; and
 - (ii) “Non-Urban Areas” means those parts of Solomon Islands, except for the Urban Areas, in which STL provides mobile telecommunications services.
- (c) The Network Quality parameter measures the proportion of the network over which performance is deemed to be adequate during busy periods. It is defined as the “number of cells with x% or lower dropped call rate and a call set up success rate of y% or higher divided by the total number of operational cells” where x and y are the respective obligations in the relevant measurement period.

7. AMENDMENT, SUSPENSION AND REVOCATION OF THIS LICENCE

7.1 AMENDMENT, SUSPENSION AND REVOCATION OF THIS LICENCE

- (d) STL has entered into liquidation, takes any action for its voluntary winding-up or dissolution, or is the subject of any order by a court or tribunal for its compulsory winding-up or dissolution; or
- (e) STL has entered into receivership, except if it is, and the Telecommunications Commission is satisfied that it is likely to remain, in full compliance with the terms and conditions of this licence despite entering into receivership.

7.2 APPEAL TO THE HIGH COURT

Where the Telecommunications Commission suspends or revokes this licence under sub-clause 7.1, and if such suspension or revocation constitutes a deprivation or acquisition of property within Part II of the Constitution, then STL may appeal under section 42(2) or Part 17 of the Act to the High Court for the determination of its interest or right, the legality of the suspension or revocation, and if compensation is payable contrary to sub-clause 7.1, the amount of any compensation payable and the period of time within which it shall be paid.

7.3 REQUIREMENTS OF INTERNATIONAL TREATIES, ETC.

The Telecommunications Commission may by determination, order, direction or regulation amend this licence if such amendment is required as a result of applicable international treaties, commitments, recommendations or standards legally binding on Solomon Islands, except that such amendment shall:

7.5 NOTIFICATION FROM THE TELECOMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

The Telecommunications Commission must provide prior written notice to STL that it intends to amend its licence under sub-clause 7.3 and STL may within thirty (30) days appeal under section 102 of the Act to the Dispute and Appeal Panel for the determination of its interest or right, the legality of the amendment and the reasonableness of the compensation and the period of time within which it shall be paid.

7.6 ACCOUNT OF CONTINUITY OF SERVICE

In amending, suspending or revoking this licence, the Telecommunications Commission must take into account continuity of service to users and any hardship that may result to STL.

a change of control of the ultimate parent entity or person.

8.6 ENCUMBRANCES

Notwithstanding any other provision in this clause 8, in the case of an encumbrance by STL of this licence in favour of a reputable financial institution where:

- (a) the encumbrance is granted in security for a loan or other financial accommodation made in the ordinary course of such financial institution's business to STL or its affiliate for the purpose of STL's telecommunications business in Solomon Islands;

- (b) The exercise by a financial institution of any of its rights under any encumbrance over this licence, short of the transfer of any rights and obligations under the licence, will not contravene this clause 8.

8.9 OBLIGATIONS OF THE ORIGINAL LICENSEE

No approval by the Telecommunications Commission under sub-clause 8.2, 8.3 or 8.6 shall relieve STL from any obligation under this licence unless the Telecommunications Commission consents to STL being relieved from such obligation.

1.5. NON-EXCLUSIVE LICENCE

This licence is granted to NME on a non-exclusive basis.

1.6. EMERGENCY SERVICES

Subject to any order, determination, direction or regulation made by the Telecommunications Commission under the Telecommunications Act, and subject to any Universal Access Plan adopted by the Telecommunications Commission under section 47 of the Act, NME shall provide emergency services for its subscribers, being dedicated emergency telephone line for each of the police, ambulance, fire brigade, marine search master, or other emergency service as the Telecommunications Commission may reasonably require, where a subscriber may dial directly to the police, ambulance, fire brigade, marine search master or other emergency services as the Telecommunications Commission may from time to time reasonably require: PROVIDED THAT nothing in this sub-clause obliges NME to ensure that the relevant emergency department answers the telephone call connected by NME.

1.7. COMPLIANCE WITH THE TELECOMMUNICATIONS ACT

NME shall comply at all times with the Telecommunications Act, any determinations, orders, directions and regulations made under the Telecommunications Act and any other applicable laws of Solomon Islands.

2. TERM

2.1 TERM OF LICENCE

The term of this licence shall expire on the fifteenth anniversary of the date of this licence. This licence comes into effect on the date of delivery of this licence to NME.

2.2 COMMENCEMENT OF PROVISION OF TELECOMMUNICATIONS SERVICES

Notwithstanding sub-clause 2.1, NME shall comply with section 128(5) of the Act.

3. LICENCE FEES

3.1. LICENCE FEES DURING THE TRANSITIONAL FUNDING PERIOD

During the transitional funding period, NME shall pay a licence fee of 2% of NME's gross revenues for the relevant period, in accordance with section 133 of the Act.

3.2 LICENCE FEES AFTER THE TRANSITIONAL FUNDING PERIOD

- (a) After the transitional funding period, NME shall pay a licence fee as a percentage of NME's gross revenues, not exceeding 2% of NME's gross revenues, for the relevant period, in accordance with section 20 of the Act.
- (b) The percentage of NME's gross revenues shall be set at a level intended to cover the Telecommunications Commission's budgeted costs (including without limitation provision for legal and other costs as contemplated in section 15 of the Act) of all of its activities other than those set forth in section 19 of the Act.

3.3 SUPPLEMENTARY LICENCE FEE

- (a) The Telecommunications Commission may set a supplementary licence fee payable by NME as a percentage of NME's gross revenues in their most recent financial reporting year, in accordance with section 21 of the Act.
- (b) A supplementary licence fee may be set only to make up a funding deficit resulting, or which the Telecommunications Commission reasonably expects will result, from any appeal or legal proceedings.

3.4 OTHER FEES AND LEVIES

- (a) This clause 3 shall not limit NME's liability to pay any other fees and levies payable under the Telecommunications Act.
- (b) Fees and levies levied under the Telecommunications Act must, in accordance with section 18(3) of Act, be set in an open, transparent, non-discriminatory, objective and competitively neutral manner, except that fees may be adjusted to encourage and accommodate the needs of small businesses in Solomon Islands.

4. RADIO SPECTRUM, NETWORK NUMBERING AND NETWORK CODES

4.1. RADIO SPECTRUM

Subject to Part 7 of the Act, and subject to any order, direction or regulation of the Telecommunications Commission under Part 4 of the Act:

- (a) not earlier than 1 November 2009, NME may use the radio spectrum assigned and set out in Appendix A, subject to section 128(5); and
- (b) no annual or other fee set under section 57(3) of the Act shall be payable by NME in respect of the right to use the radio spectrum assigned and set out in Appendix A.

4.2 NETWORK NUMBERING AND NETWORK CODES

Subject to Part 13 of the Act and subject to any determination, order, direction and regulation of the Telecommunications Commission establishing or revising a national numbering plan under section 81 of the Act:

- (a) not earlier than [date to be specified], NME may use the number ranges and network codes assigned and set out in Appendix B; and
- (b) no annual or other fee set under the Telecommunications Act shall be payable by NME in respect of the right to use the number ranges and network codes assigned and set out in Appendix B.

5. UNIVERSAL ACCESS

Any universal access levy that NME is required to pay under section 51 of the Act shall not exceed 2% of NME’s gross revenues in the relevant period. NME will not be obliged to pay a universal access levy for a period of at least five years following the new entrant launch date.

6. QUALITY OF SERVICE

6.1. KEY PERFORMANCE INDICATORS

NME shall, if it is declared a dominant service provider in the telecommunications market in which mobile telecommunications services are provided, comply with the following key performance indicators for its mobile telecommunications network during each calendar quarter (the measurement period):

Parameter	Measurement	Obligation during 1 st year	Obligation during 2 nd year	Obligation during 3 rd year and after

1. Network call set-up success rate	The 10% of cells which have the highest levels of carried traffic during their busy hour during the measurement period are identified. The call set-up success rate is calculated for each cell during the identified busy hour. The network call set-up success rate is the average across the individual success rates for each cell.	>95%	>97%	>98%
2. Network dropped call rate (Urban Areas)	The network dropped call rate (Urban Areas) is calculated during the busy hour for each of the 10% of busiest cells (as for the call success rate) in Urban Areas. The network dropped call rate (Urban Areas) is the average over the dropped call rates for each such cell.	<3.5%	<2.0%	<1.5%
3. Network dropped call rate (Non-Urban Areas)	The network dropped call rate (Non-Urban Areas) is calculated during the busy hour for each of the 10% of busiest cells (as for the call success rate) in Non-Urban Areas. The network dropped call rate (Non-Urban Areas) is the average over the dropped call rates for each such cell.	<5.0%	<5.0%	<5.0%
4. Network quality	The busy hour with the highest level of carried traffic during the measurement period is identified for each cell. The call set-up success rate and	>90%	>93%	>95%

	dropped call rates are then calculated for each cell over this busy hour. The proportion of cells satisfying the criterion (see definition in subclause 6.2) is the performance measure.

6.2 EXPLANATION OF PARAMETERS

- (a) The Network Call Set-up Success Rate parameter measures the call set-up success rate over the busiest part of the network. The call set-up success rate is defined as successful seizures for TCH/seizure attempts for TCH.
- (b) The Network Dropped Call Rate parameter measures the dropped call rate over the busiest part of the network in each of: (i) Urban Areas, and (ii) Non-Urban Areas. The network dropped call rate is defined as the proportion of calls successfully set up which terminate for any reason other than termination by either the calling or called parties. For the purpose of this clause 6:
 - (i) “Urban Areas” means those main provincial centres in each province in which STL provides mobile telecommunications services; and
 - (ii) “Non-Urban Areas” means those parts of Solomon Islands, except for the Urban Areas, in which STL provides mobile telecommunications services, as set out in set out in Appendix D (Population estimates for 2008 based on 1999 Census).

- (c) The Network Quality parameter measures the proportion of the network over which performance is deemed to be adequate during busy periods. It is defined as the “number of cells with x% or lower dropped call rate and a call set up success rate of y% or higher divided by the total number of operational cells” where x and y are the respective obligations in the relevant measurement period.

7. AMENDMENT, SUSPENSION AND REVOCATION OF THIS LICENCE

7.1 AMENDMENT, SUSPENSION AND REVOCATION OF THIS LICENCE

The Telecommunications Commission may, by determination or order, amend the conditions of, suspend or revoke, this licence without compensation if:

- (a) NME agrees to the amendment, suspension or revocation;
- (b) NME has failed to comply with a licence condition, the Telecommunications Act, or a determination, order, direction or regulation under the Telecommunications Act and has failed to cure the failure within a reasonable time after service by the Telecommunications Commission of written notice to NME specifying the failure and requiring it to be cured;
- (c) NME made in the licence application or any documents submitted for registration any false statement of a material fact or omitted to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements made, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading;
- (d) NME has entered into liquidation, takes any action for its voluntary winding-up or dissolution, or is the subject of any order by a court or tribunal for its compulsory winding-up or dissolution; or
- (e) NME has entered into receivership, except if it is, and the Telecommunications Commission is satisfied that it is likely to remain, in full compliance with the terms and conditions of this licence despite entering into receivership.

7.2. APPEAL TO THE HIGH COURT

Where the Telecommunications Commission suspends or revokes this licence under sub-clause 7.1, and if such suspension or revocation constitutes a deprivation or acquisition of property within

Part II of the Constitution, then NME may appeal to the High Court under section 42(2) or Part 17 of the Act for the determination of its interest or right, the legality of the suspension or revocation, and if compensation is payable contrary to sub-clause 7.1, the amount of any compensation payable and the period of time within which it shall be paid.

7.3. REQUIREMENTS OF INTERNATIONAL TREATIES, ETC.

The Telecommunications Commission may by determination, order or direction amend this licence if such amendment is required as a result of applicable international treaties, commitments, recommendations or standards legally binding on Solomon Islands: PROVIDED THAT such amendment shall:

- (a) be made only to the extent reasonably required as a result of such treaty, commitment, recommendation or standard as applicable; and
- (b) make the minimal change necessary to the original clause of this licence.

7.4. PAYMENT OF COMPENSATION

The Telecommunications Commission must pay reasonable compensation (the valuable consideration of which may take the form of cash or some other form and may be payable by way of lump sum or by instalments) within a reasonable period of time after an amendment under sub-clause 7.3 having due regard to all the relevant circumstances.

7.5. NOTIFICATION FROM THE TELECOMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

The Telecommunications Commission must provide prior written notice to NME that it intends to amend its licence under sub-clause 7.3 and NME may within thirty (30) days appeal under section 102 of the Act to the Dispute and Appeal Panel for the determination of its interest or right, the legality of the amendment and the reasonableness of the compensation and the period of time within which it shall be paid.

7.6. ACCOUNT OF CONTINUITY OF SERVICE

In amending, suspending or revoking this licence, the Telecommunications Commission must take into account continuity of service to users and any hardship that may result to NME.

8. TRANSFERS OF LICENCES AND CONTROL OF LICENSEES

8.1 TRANSFERS OF LICENCES AND CONTROL OF LICENSEES

Except pursuant to this clause, no approvals are required for the transfer of this licence or control of NME.

8.2. APPROVAL OF TELECOMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

Subject to section 130 of the Act, no transfer of control of NME shall have any legal force without the approval by determination or order of the Telecommunications Commission, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld.

8.3. APPROVAL OF TRANSFER OF THIS LICENCE

Subject to section 130 of the Act, no transfer of an individual licence shall have any legal force without the approval in writing by determination or order of the Telecommunications Commission.

8.4. APPLICATION FOR A TRANSFER

An application for a transfer requiring approval of the Telecommunications Commission under sub-clause 8.3 must include information about the proposed transaction, including without limitation:

- (b) information about any person who will take a transfer of this licence, or who will have control over NME, as a result of the transaction, including:
 - (i) a description, and the identities, addresses and jurisdictions of incorporation or residence, of such persons and any persons having more than a five per cent (5%) direct or indirect ownership interest in them, and any affiliated persons;
 - (ii) a description of any markets in which they provide telecommunications services;
 - (iii) their annual revenues from telecommunications services;
 - (iv) the declared approximate value of their assets devoted to telecommunications business; and
 - (v) copies of their most recent annual and quarterly reports and financial statements;

8.5. CORPORATE REORGANISATION

Sub-clauses 8.2 and 8.3 shall not apply to any transfer of a licence or control of NME to a person where such transfer is part of a corporate reorganisation or similar transaction and does not result in a change of control of the ultimate parent entity or person.

8.6. ENCUMBRANCES

Notwithstanding any other provision in this clause 8, in the case of an encumbrance by NME of this licence in favour of a reputable financial institution where:

- (a) the encumbrance is granted in security for a loan or other financial accommodation made in the ordinary course of such financial institution's business to NME or its affiliate for the purpose of NME's telecommunications business in Solomon Islands;

- (b) the security is necessary for the making of such loan or other financial accommodation; and
- (c) the terms and conditions of the encumbrance provide that upon its exercise all of the rights and obligations under this licence will be transferred to a person to be approved by the Telecommunications Commission who shall become a substitute licensee, but such approval of the Telecommunications Commission for a person to become a substitute licensee under paragraph (c) will not be unreasonably withheld.

8.7. SUBSTITUTE LICENSEE

The Telecommunications Commission shall not withhold its approval of a transfer of an individual licence or control of an individual licensee under clause 8.3 or of a person to become a substitute licensee under clause 8.6(c) if such person:

unless there are some special circumstances as to why approval should be withheld.

8.8 EXERCISE OF AN ENCUMBRANCE

- (a) No exercise of any encumbrance over this licence shall have legal effect unless this licence is transferred to a person approved by the Telecommunications Commission.
- (b) The exercise by a financial institution of any of its rights under any encumbrance over this licence, short of the transfer of any rights and obligations under the licence, will not contravene this clause 8.

8.9 OBLIGATIONS OF THE ORIGINAL LICENSEE

No approval by the Telecommunications Commission under Sub-clause 8.2, 8.3 or 8.6 shall relieve NME from any obligation under this licence unless the Telecommunications Commission consents to NME being relieved from such obligation.

9. PRICE REGULATION

9.1. PRICE REGULATION

The Telecommunications Commission may, on application or on its own motion, regulate the prices of services provided by a dominant service provider in a telecommunications market with reference to relevant benchmarks in accordance with section 71 of the Act.

9.2. REASONABLE RETURN

The Telecommunications Commission must seek to ensure that a price cap, glide path or any other method of price regulation applied to NME does not:

- (a) prevent NME from achieving a reasonable return on investment; or
- (b) violate section 60(2) of the Act.

10. COVERAGE OBLIGATION AND PERFORMANCE BOND

10.1 SERVICE COVERAGE

NME shall provide mobile telecommunications services (the coverage of those mobile telecommunications services being service coverage) as follows:

NME shall provide service coverage to at least []% of the population of Solomon Islands, based on the population estimates set out at Appendix D of this Licence.

10.2 TESTING

Testing of the extent of service coverage under sub-clause 10.1 shall be by such methods as the Telecommunications Commission may determine, following consultation with NME.

10.3 PERFORMANCE BOND

- (a) On the date of this licence, NME shall provide to the Telecommunications Commission a performance bond from a banking institution (licensed to carry on banking business in Solomon Islands pursuant to the Financial Institutions Act 1998) or other person acceptable to the Government, to guarantee compliance with its obligations in sub-clause 10.1 in substantially the form set out in the Appendix C (the Performance Bond).

- (b) Without limiting any other remedy available to the Telecommunications Commission, if NME fails to comply with sub-clause 10.1, the Telecommunications Commission may notify NME that it intends to exercise the Performance Bond or take any other enforcement action against NME, by a specified date unless NME complies with sub-clause 10.1 by that date.
- (c) If, by the date notified by the Telecommunications Commission under paragraph (b), NME has failed to comply with sub-clause 10.1 to the Telecommunications Commission's reasonable satisfaction, the Telecommunications Commission may exercise the Performance Bond.
- (d) The Telecommunications Commission may exercise any amount of the Performance Bond under paragraph (c), on any number of occasions where the conditions in paragraph (b) are met, until such time as the total amount guaranteed by the Performance Bond has been paid to the Telecommunications Commission.
- (e) If, at any time during the term of this licence, the total amount guaranteed by the Performance Bond has been paid to the Telecommunications Commission, the Telecommunications Commission may notify NME requiring NME to provide a new Performance Bond to guarantee compliance with its obligations under sub-clause 10.1 for the remaining period of the term. NME shall comply with any such requirement within 20 Working Days of receipt of such notice, provided that the total guaranteed amount of any new Performance Bond given under this paragraph shall not exceed the total amount guaranteed in the previous Performance Bond.

11. NOTICES

Any notice required to be served upon NME or given to NME shall
